DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ritland et al. (US 2003/0220689).

Ritland et al. disclose the claimed invention, including an implant engaging member (e.g. 10, 20) and a reference member (30) trackable by a navigation system (see Fig. 1 and paragraphs 0004-0017). The engaging member is at least capable of engaging a stem of an orthopedic implant. Ritland et al. do not explicitly recite the means for adjustability or the type of implant and inserter. However, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have provided means for adjustability, since it has been held that the provision of adjustability, where needed, involves only routine skill in the art. In re Stevens, 101 USPQ 284 (CCPA 1954). It also would have been obvious to have substituted a rod that can lock to a stemmed implant inasmuch as Ritland discloses the use of implants and insertion tools in the channel of the device, and substituting a rod-like tool that locks to a stemmed implant would have amounted merely to a substitution of functionally equivalent tool and implant structures known in the art. Such a configuration is merely one of numerous known arrangements that could be expected to be employed with such a device.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 18 is allowed.

Claims 6-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 30 October 2007 have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
